

Assist Clients with Medication Skills Set CHCSS00070

COURSE OVERVIEW

Learn valuable skills and support clients with their medication requirements.

This skill set is for people working within the aged care industry, wishing to provide safe support to a person to self administer medication.

In this introductory course you will learn basic information about the human body, how to recognise and promote ways to maintain healthy bodily functions and use and interpret information that includes references to client anatomy and physiology. You will also discover how to prepare for and provide medication assistance, complete medication documentation, and support clients to self-administer medication.

Successful completion of this skill set will prepare you for work involving the provision of medication assistance in a range of community services and health care contexts.

WHY A SKILL SET?

A skill set is one or more competencies grouped together to give you the skills and knowledge to perform practical tasks.
